

Making Major Decisions

Julie Lynch

Tuesdays, 2:00-2:50pm, GENT 425

UNIV 1820.009, PeopleSoft Course # 7625

Open to Freshmen and Sophomores

This course is intended to provide students with an opportunity to explore major and career options. Topics will include, major and career exploration; understanding one's strengths, skills, interests, values, and personality and leveraging this information to make strategic career decisions; learning about internships; discovering leadership opportunities that will aid in skill acquirement and resume building; and learning from guest speakers different major and career options available to them .

Students will gain

- 1) Self- awareness of personal values /skills/interest
- 2) Knowledge of Academic disciplines, policies, and resources.
- 3) Critical thinking and decision making skills

UConn | UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT

FIRST YEAR PROGRAMS &
LEARNING COMMUNITIES