Course Description:

A broad review of topics and methodologies that investigate the intersection of Sport and Communication studies. Topics will include interpersonal communication between parents, coaches, and players; sport fandoms and fantasy culture; athletes as heroes; sport media; and crisis communication in sport. Quantitative, qualitative, and creative/aesthetic methods of analysis will be explored.